

HOTELS

Hummel Chas.—Propr of Friedensburg Hotel. Travelers accommodated, Friedensburg P.O.

Reber W.W.—Propr of Reber's Hotel, Dist No. 10, Summit Station P.O.

Wommer J.H.—Propr of Long Run Hotel. Excellent Stabling for Horses and good accommodations for Travelers, Dist No. 1, Friedensburg P.O.

Young Wm.—Proprietor Swatara House Dist No. 3, Friedensburg P.O.

Steinbach John—Propr of Farmers Hotel and Dealer in all kinds of Wood and Lumber, Summit Station P.O.

MISCELLANEOUS

Krammes Wm.—Wood Chopper, Dist No. 4, Summit Station P.O.

Krecker J.W.F.&CO.—Dealers in Dry Goods, Notions and Groceries, Hardware, Queensware, Oils, Paints, School Books and Stationery, Friedensburg P.O.

Moyer Lewis—Dist No. 10, Summit Station P.O.

Ney D.K.—Dealer in Merchandise; Post Master, and Express and Ticket Agent for S. & S. Div. of P. & R.R. at Summit Station

Reed Levi—Dist No. 7, Friedensburg P.O.

Schaubel G.—Dealer in Wood, Res, Dist No. 9, Summit Station P.O.

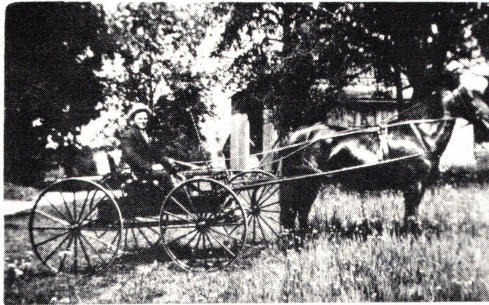

Zeigler Nathan—Carpenter and Laborer, Dist. No. 11, Friedensburg P.O.

TOMBSTONES

Meyer, Christian-June 1842

Tombstones—Thanks to the public for former patronage and says he has moved to his plantation on the Summer Hillroad, where formerly Jacob Deick had lived, three miles from the church, two miles from Friedensburg. He has just returned from Philadelphia with a large stock of head and foot stones of the finest marble. He had conducted this business for over ten years in the county and engraves in English as well as German.

EARLY TRANSPORTATION

OSCAR NEY, BUCKBOARD

TOP BUGGY, PINE HILL 1915

Taken from The Pinegrove Herald-Friday, March 26, 1909.

PRETTY THINGS TO WEAR

Few brides now wear the face veil.
A few straw hats have made their appearance.
There is a fad for soft suede leather neckties.
Toques are still large, broad and heavy looking.
There is a hint of revolt against the empire style.
Strings are being worn on hats and tied under the chin.
The shawls of sixty years ago are again in good style.
Men's scarfpins are growing larger and more elaborate.
The prestige of satin-faced materials continues unabated.
Cotton velvets are much used for tailormade suits just now.
Automobile coats of black ponyskin are in great popularity.
Newest hats are being extensively trimmed on the right side.
Shirred gauze or satin is playing a leading part in new hats.
Satin hats, trimmed with fur, are having a considerable vogue.
Toques of straw are being trimmed with fancy rims and feathers.
The parasol handle of the long directoire fashion is very smart.
Bandeaux will have little use in the hats planned for the season.
Eccentric new hair ornaments are being made of gold in the form of conch shells, and are worn right over the ears.
Very smart is a French cotton crepe princess gown, made all around with narrow gores set together with linen thread lace insertion. The sleeves are long and there is real Irish crochet yoke.